start and memory

this is the inspiration, pin/AQKwfRF1LvD-myQvASr871Ua0R34B0s5eSc361Pga3HHQQ741omZBjQ/ Prompt taken from the comment, "This would totally happen, you are so absorbed in watching Doctor Who, you wouldn't even notice the Tardis in your living room and the doctor sitting right next to you stealing a handful of your popcorn."

You are watching your favorite episode of your favorite Doctors run. You could not be happier. It is at that moment where it all starts coming together. You are reaching for the popcorn when your hand touches something. You jump and turn to see him sitting there. The doctor off your television screen. He is sitting there handful of popcorn half to his mouth with that bemused expression on his face the same one that was on your TV screen. Moments ago, your frozen convinced that you are crazy. Till he says in that unmistakable voice, even with popcorn in his mouth, "Hi, I'm the Doctor!" You pinch yourself, ow OK I am awake. You think. Next you start to laugh thinking you friends are playing a joke on you "Doctor who?" You question. "That one" he says pointing to your TV.

"Yeah, where is the T.A.R.D.I.S.?" You say thinking that your friends would definitely not be that dedicated to a prank. All he does is lift a handful of popcorn and point over your shoulder. You spin around in your seat then jump because there is a T.A.R.D.I.S. you run over and throw the doors open, rush inside and then right back out. It really is the Doctor in your house with the T.A.R.D.I.S.

The doctor has stood and moved over to you Still eating from the bowel of popcorn. "You want to come see more than just your world" he asks eyes shining. All you can think to do is nod. He grabs your hand and two are off.

Years later when you are re watching some of your favorite episodes of Dr. Who you realize that the story they tell, was your story, they changed you name, they changed what your time period was, but it was still your story, you time with the Doctor, there for all to see.

End file.
